MAY OPEN FLOODGATES OF WHISKEY

Court Holds it may be Taken from Storage and Transported

BY W. H. ATKINS
STAFF CORRESPONDENT I. N. SERVICE
WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—The whiskey flood gates may be opened by the supreme court decision regarding whiskey held in storage.
Large stocks of the 50,000,000 gallons of whiskey remaining in bonded warehouses may be released by this decision, it was stated today. Certificate allowing the holdings of whiskey in bonded warehouses and as an evidence of its ownership, are apparently vitally affected. The court, in passing upon a New York case, did not deal specifically with the question of warehouse certificates, but its view was made plain that whiskey owned and stored for personal use may be withdrawn and moved by the owner at his option.

BLOW FOR PROHIBITION.
The decision may deal a body blow at prohibition, it was said today. Prohibition Commissioner Cramer and Internal Revenue Collector Williams are studying the decision with a view to determining its effect upon liquor stocks in store.

In effect the court states that whiskey stored by an owner, who acquired it legally and does not hold it for any illegal use, may take it out of storage and transport it any time. In this New York case it was not made plain whether an owner could move his liquor so stored across state boundaries in interstate commerce.

AWAIT FURTHER RULING.
Transportation in interstate commerce was not involved by the facts in this case and no mention of this aspect of the matter was made by the court. It is still, therefore, a matter for the determination of the internal revenue bureau and the extent to which the decision will allow interstate shipments will not be definitely known until Commissioner Williams makes known his ruling on the matter.

It was established by the court that ownership of whiskey is a property right enjoyed under the constitution, and the view of the court was that nothing in the Volstead law, regardless of the provisions covering this point can take away that right.

DIFFICULT TO ENFORCE.
Upon that broad ground it was admitted by enforcement officials today that great difficulty would be encountered in any attempt to prevent withdrawals from bonded warehouses of whiskey stocks represented by legally acquired certificates now outstanding among thousands of individuals.

It is likely, officials said today, that there will be stiff opposition by the enforcement bureau to any letting down of the bars for indiscriminate withdrawals. But the decision is certain to result in much confusion and an overturning of some of the regulations now in force.

TRIBUNAL'S BROAD POSITION.
Among the regulations which are automatically repealed is one which prohibited an owner of liquor, legally acquired for his personal use, from removing it from the home, from moving the liquor in a van or other vehicle to any other place, even though another domicile existed under a permit issued after much "red tape." The broad position taken by the tribunal is that the owner of liquor, ownership of which is not in dispute, and bought for legal use, can move it wherever and whenever fancy suits him.

Although a copy of the supreme court's decision had not reached the bureau of internal revenue this morning, officials gave as their informal opinion that the decision might be sufficiently broad to apply to warehouse certificates. There are outstanding thousands of these warehouse certificates which represent whiskey in bonded warehouses. It seemed today to be the feeling that the decision would allow owners of these certificates, if legally acquired, to remove whiskey represented by them and where they desired.

Undoubtedly it was felt, too, that it would be brought to determine whether it was necessary under the decision that owners must have acquired these certificates prior to Jan. 15, 1919, when prohibition went into effect.

JUSTICE METED TO FOUR CRIMINALS

(SPECIAL TO THE TIMES)
CROWN POINT, IND., Nov. 9.—Judge Smith sentenced four Lake county men to imprisonment for the following offenses on Monday: Eddie Thornton, of Indiana Harbor, 2 to 21 years in Jeffersonville, for assault and battery, with intent to kill. Edward Kondrat was Thornton's victim. Will McClellan of Gary, set fire to his neighbor, Tony George's house, damaging it to the extent of $200. For applying the match McClellan will serve a 2 to 21 year sentence in Michigan City. Frank Lopez, stole $525 from Henry Chas. of Gary, 1 to 14 years, was his fate. Fred Greiger, Gary, stole $70 of Carburators from Gary Motor Truck Co. He was given a 1 to 14 year sentence, but was paroled by Harry Stringfellow, Gary.

OIL COMPANIES ATTRACT ATTENTION

Lake county's big oil companies are attracting attention in the business world.
The action of the Standard Oil company of Indiana, which has its parent office at Whiting, in taking a move that may mean the reduction of the par value of its stock from $100 to $25, is believed to be the paving of the way for a wider distribution of the stock to the public. Current quotation of Standard Oil of Indiana asked on the New York curb is $745.

In an article in the Hearst Magazine Harry F. Sinclair dwells upon the policies of the Sinclair Oil group. Mr. Sinclair dwells extensively on the Sinclair's future.

CONTRACTORS TODAY SUE BATTERY CO.

In the Lake superior court today a receiver for the O. K. Giant Battery Company is asked in a petition by the contracting firm of Erickson, Johnson & Co., who were putting up the factory buildings for the company at Gary. They ask judgment for $100,000.
In May, Erickson, Johnson & Co., common contractors with headquarters at Chicago took the contract for constructing a number of buildings on the site which had been acquired by the O. K. Giant Co. The company had already installed machinery in a building situated on the grounds and the new buildings were to be constructed so that they would form a unit with the old one.

The contract price for the work was $17,500, eighty-five per cent to be paid at the work progressed and the balance to be paid when the job was completed. The petitioners say that this amount remains wholly unpaid. Some time ago the contractors stopped work when money was not forthcoming but they say they stand ready and willing to complete the job.

July 16 Erickson, Johnson & Co., filed notice with the county recorder that they had taken a mechanic's lien upon the property. Then came the fire which destroyed the building in which production was already in progress.

The petition states that it is believed the company is now insolvent and unable to meet its financial obligations; that its liabilities exceed its assets and that it has no maturing fund that can meet current and maturing liabilities. The contractors demand judgment of $17,500 on the contract, $120,000 damages for loss of points which they would have obtained made during the time they have been engaged on the work and several thousand more for attorney fees and other expenses they have been put to because of their differences with the corporation. A receiver is demanded to take charge of the assets, convert them into cash and made distribution among the creditors. Attorneys Crumpler, Crumpler & Friedrich are appearing for the petitioners.

HARBOR MAN SHOT IN BRAWL DIES AT GARY HOSPITAL

Arthur Phelps, negro who was shot Sunday afternoon during a quarrel at a house on Euclid ave., Indiana Harbor, died last night at the Gary hospital. Collins Richardson, another negro, who was also shot, was reported to be in a serious condition. The quarrel started when Phelps, who had been seeking his wife, who had left her home, had gone to Euclid ave. home and asked for his wife. He was informed that she was not there. Phelps left, upon receiving this information, but later returned and was again informed that his wife was not there. Again he left and for the third time he went back to the Euclid ave. home, this time he forced his way into the house, finding his wife in company with Richardson, and two other men. In the quarrel that followed, Phelps is alleged to have drawn a knife and to have slashed his wife. A free-for-all fight ensued, knives and revolvers taking a prominent part in the celebration. When the police arrived, the tide of battle had turned, one of the negro's who is accused of firing the fatal shots which killed Phelps and injuring Richardson, had fled and no trace of him has as yet been found. Mr. Phelps, wife of the dead man, is also reported to be in a serious condition.

HE JUST KNEW HE VOTED FOR HARDING

The quickness with which a fallen idol is forgotten in America was shown this morning in Room 2 of the Hammond superior court when George Mundt of Indiana Harbor was being questioned on his application for full citizenship papers.
George was asked several of the old questions regarding the form of government. Then the examiner put this one:
"Who is our president?"
"Mr. Wilson," answered George promptly.
"Who did we just elect president?" was the next one.
"Mr. Harding," sang out George.
"Who was running against him?" George was stumped. "Lemmo see," he mused. "Meester-Meester—he was a democrat I knew—Meester-Meester Wilson." He ventured the name questioningly.
"No, no, no," exclaimed the examiner. "Did you ever hear of Cox?"
"Seems like I did hear of Meester Cox's," said George. "But I dunno what he do. Just I know I vote for Harding."
"Admit him," ordered Judge Hardy when the examiner announced that the man was satisfactory.

"Did you know that Smith was dead?"
And every one of the 100 made this same reply:
"What Smith?"

Harbor Man to Electric Chair Friday

CROWN POINT, IND., Nov. 9.—One Lake county negro, Will Thornton, of Indiana Harbor, will go to his death by electrocution on Friday of this week in the Michigan City prison for the murder of Nick Kish, of Indiana Harbor. Thornton will suffer the death penalty in the electric chair. Thornton was found guilty of the murder by a jury in the criminal court at Crown Point on August 28th.

TWO HURT IN STANDARD ACCIDENT

(SPECIAL TO THE TIMES)
WHITING, IND., Nov. 9.—Lewis Sickafus, 58, of Griffith, is dead and Blomdel Barry, 40, also of Griffith, is in St. Margaret's hospital at Hammond in a critical condition as a result of an accident at the Standard Oil Co. plant this morning.

The two men were working in the Tank Look at the plant when a heavy section of sheet iron which was being placed in position, fell upon them. Sickafus died instantly. Barry was taken from beneath the sheet iron and rushed to the hospital where it was said that his chances for recovery are slight.

The accident occurred at 2 o'clock. Sickafus leaves a wife and seven children.

CLOTHING INDUSTRY IN N. Y. AT A STANDSTILL

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—Men's clothes may be cheaper in the spring, but present fall prices are at their lowest ebb and many retailers have been forced, in order to keep their business operating, to mark their wares down to cost in order to produce sales.

This situation is unusual, according to a canvass of large wholesale manufacturers of men's clothes today in New York City.

Some manufacturers hope with lowered prices of woolen goods, and anticipated reduction in wages, to make good suits next spring at retail prices about $35. Others declared they will retail at not less than $45 to $50.

The men's clothing industry in New York City is practically at a standstill. About 40,000 workers, or seventy per cent of those normally employed, are idle. Manufacturers usually busy at this time on spring goods, have not begun spring production.

FIFIELD APPOINTMENT STRENGTHENS HARRIS

In connection with the story in these columns yesterday, regarding the appointment of Otto Fifield on the legislative committee, the Indianapolis News says:

Representative Fifield is the republican member representing the house on the committee. To this member usually goes the lead of the house ways and means committee, one of the most important house committees.

Governor-elect Warren T. McCray is understood to have had a hand in Fifield's appointment. Both are in the Tenth district and Fifield is a Lake county grain dealer and farmer. Fifield has been talked of for the speakership of the house, but it is presumed that with the legislative committee, appointment and the almost certain leadership of the house ways and means committee in sight, Mr. Fifield will not be further considered for the speakership, inasmuch as he has accepted the place on the visiting committee.

J. Glenn Harris, another Lake county man, is left as a Tenth district candidate for the speakership. He is running against Jacob D. Miltenberger, of Muncie.

SMOOT ENTERTAINS A SERIOUS VIEW

LOS ANGELES, CAL., Nov. 9.—U. S. Senator Reed Smoot, of Utah, who has come to Southern California for a rest of several weeks is of the belief that the Harding administration will face the gravest problems that ever confronted the U. S. Senator Smoot, in an interview expressed the opinion that although President Harding will have the united support of the whole country, "it will be the greatest of modern miracles" if the nation gets back to a normal basis in the next four years.

Smoot feels a careful revision will help to put America on a firmer business basis.

SUES, SAYS

Alex Borzuckha, Hammond has filed suit for $10,000 against the H. W. & E. C. street railway company in the Hammond superior court. On October 13, the plaintiff says, he alighted from a west bound car at Roby on his way to work. He stepped around the rear of the car directly into the path of an east bound car which struck him. He says the injuries sustained will cripple him permanently.

It is alleged the car which hit him did not sound a warning as it passed the standing car. McAleer, Dorsey & McLaughlin are attorneys for the plaintiff.

MASONIC ARCHITECTS TO REPORT

The building committee which has charge of putting up the new Masonic Temple has received word from the architects that the revised plans and specifications are about completed and will soon be ready for the committee's approval.

This means that within a short time the committee will be able to ask contractors to bid on the construction of the building which means so much for Hammond. A number of changes have been made in the original plans which will lower the cost of construction and permit the work to be completed in much shorter time.

The temple will have the city's largest auditorium for public meetings. This will be 115 feet wide by 110 feet deep with a stage forty feet by twenty-six feet. This will seat about 2,000 people.

As the room has a thirty-nine foot ceiling, a swinging balcony can be added later if conditions warrant. The balcony which was originally included in the plans has been discarded.

There is still considerable stock to be sold before the entire amount is subscribed and now that the actual construction work is near at hand the work of selling stock will be pushed vigorously.

WOMEN DEATH PACT REVEALS STRANGE LOVE

(INTERNATIONAL NEWS SERVICE)
FULTON, Mo., Nov. 8.—A strange love between two women, which resulted in the tragic death of both, was revealed today by the finding of a note left by Miss Caroline Wain, a stenographer, who, according to latest evidence, yesterday morning shot and killed Mrs. Ada McCowan, with whom she lived, and then killed herself.

The shooting occurred in the bed chamber which the women occupied together. Naason McCowan, the husband, sleeping in another part of the house.

All Fulton is stirred today by the tragic and unexpected circumstances of a drama involving two of the most prominent and respected women in this city. Not only were Miss Wain and Mrs. McCowan well known in the social circles, but both were prominent members of the Christian church. Their remarkable friendship regarded generally as a sisterly affection was the cause of the following which was carried out in the following manner:

Following testimony at the coroner's inquest that Miss Wain and Mrs. McCowan had quarreled because of jealousy over each other's women friends, a search of the effects of Miss Wain was made. Her brother, H. B. Wain, of Jefferson City, found a note which definitely established, it was declared, that Miss Wain had done the shooting.

The first part of the note written last Friday, the day when the two had a severe quarrel, read in part:

"I am doing this act because of trouble I have had with Ada and there is nothing else that I have to live for after confiding in her and trusting her as the dearest friend next to God himself. Am making an end of this life I want the following wishes carried out, if possible. I want all items sold and the money placed to the account of Wallace August Rogers, or given to his mother for his keep and care."

The second part of the note, containing a list of clothing and personal belongings. The note was typewritten on legal paper, leading to the belief she wrote it in the office where she was employed.

WIFE ALLEGES BRUTAL TREATMENT

Alleging that her husband beat and choked her and often remained away from home for two or three days at a time, Madeline M. Przymusiński, 355 State St. street, Hammond, today filed suit for divorce from Walter Przymusiński in the Hammond superior court.

They were married July 28, 1917, and according to the plaintiff's statement, had separated several times before the filing of the suit. She says she was not with her husband when he was away from home for several days he would often tell of his associations with other women during that time.

Mrs. Przymusiński asks for $5,000 alimony and the restoration of her maiden name. A temporary restraining order was issued by the court enjoining the husband from molesting or interfering with the property which they own jointly. J. M. Stinson is attorney for the plaintiff.

BRINGS SUIT FOR $25,000

Fredrick C. Herren, who was injured in a grade crossing accident in Porter county on Oct. 8, 1919, has brought suit in the Hammond superior court for $25,000 against the Erie Railroad company.

The complaint which was filed today by Attorneys McAleer, Dorsey and Gillett, says that the road crossing over the railroad tracks is dangerous because the track passes through a deep cut near the crossing. On this particular occasion, it is said, a string of box cars standing on the side track obscured the view until Herren was on the crossing and it was too late to avoid the accident.

Both Herren were killed and the wagon was thrown some distance by the engine. Herren received injuries which he says make him a cripple for life.

How Harding Greeted Singing Hammondite

This "hitherto unpublished picture" of Senator and Mrs. Warren G. Harding came to Hammond yesterday from Dr. H. E. Sharrer. It was a post card photograph of Mr. and Mrs. Harding on the famous front porch at Marion, O., responding to the greetings of the crowd at one of the big meetings during the campaign.

Dr. Sharrer accompanied the Chicago Hamilton Club delegation on Notification day and while in Marion (keep this from Mrs. Sharrer) made the acquaintance of Miss Rose Mable, president of the Woman's Harding For President Club of Marion. He was handing out his special cards which made a hit with Senator Harding. They read like this:

Hardy (Do) Sharrer.
Hammond, Indiana.
Hamiltonian (Chicago)
Against
Harding, Harmon, Happiness
(H)autocratic Rule and High Cost of Living

Yesterday Miss Mable sent Doc the front porch picture with another showing the senator and his wife. With them was a note in which she said: "You did not sing in vain."

Artist Dies From Auto Accident

E. Buckstaber, of 3452 Guthrie st., one of the most prominent citizens of Indiana Harbor, died early this morning at the Hammond hospital from injuries received election day, when the machine in which he was riding collided with a taxi at the intersection of 15th and First averse st. Mr. Buckstaber, sustaining a fracture of the skull which caused his death.

Mr. Buckstaber, himself a young man has seen Indiana Harbor blossom from a mere lota to that of one of the largest industrial cities in Indiana. He was gifted with a combination of genius and business ability. In the prime bestowed upon Mr. Buckstaber by the citizens who have known him since a child.

His interesting life story shows that opportunities are not elusive, but lie within our grasp, all that we have to do is to observe, work, wait, and hustle, was always his slogan.

Mr. Buckstaber came to this country from Roumania, twenty-five years ago, coming almost immediately to East Chicago and Indiana Harbor, where he has spent practically the entire time in which he has been in this country. Mr. Buckstaber was 39 years of age and is survived by his wife, Mrs. Bertha Buckstaber, two sons, David and Frederick, and a daughter, Elizabeth. He was a member of various fraternal organizations and a lifelong Mason. He was also a great charitable worker and has contributed to various organizations in the Twin Cities.

Funeral services will be held Thursday morning at 11 a. m. at his late residence, 3731 Ivy st., in Indiana Harbor.

PROCLAMATION

The eleventh day of November of each year has now become a hallowed day. We are about to commemorate the second anniversary of the dawn of a new epoch in our civilization. It is fitting that all Americans should celebrate the advent of an abiding peace, and the passing of the horrors of war. It is proper that we should glory in the triumph of Right over Might.

The true principles of American democracy now permeates the world. We, as exemplars of an ideal democracy, must keep burning the fires of patriotism.

The soldiers and sailors are home. They bear palms of VICTORY. We must, and do welcome all soldiers and sailors. We need their intense loyalty and enthusiastic patriotism to sustain our own peace during the stress of reconstruction.

With laughter and tears, with song and cheers, with poetry and spoken word, with all the emotions in a spirit of love, we greet our boys and celebrate this eventful day again.

NOW, THEREFORE, the undersigned, Daniel Brown, Mayor of the City of Hammond, Indiana, does hereby proclaim that the eleventh day of November, 1920, in the limits of the City of Hammond, Indiana, be, and the same is a holiday and it is further proclaimed between the hours of twelve o'clock noon and six o'clock p. m. of said day, all industries and places of business in the City of Hammond should be closed, and I call upon all the citizens of the City of Hammond and vicinity, to join in celebrating this glorious day, with all of our soldiers and sailors.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the City of Hammond to be hereunto affixed, this 8th day of November, A. D. 1920.

DANIEL BROWN, Mayor
Attest: WILLIAM C. ROSE, City Clerk.

I. H. BELT TO ISSUE NOTES

(INTERNATIONAL NEWS SERVICE)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 9.—Authority was granted today to the Indiana Harbor Belt Line Railroad Co. to issue $2,250,000 of promissory notes with interest not to exceed seven per cent. In granting permission to issue these notes the interstate commerce commission provided that the applicants should be required to pay the notes out of earnings or out of the proceeds of settlements, with the government.

ROBERTSDALE MAN ROBBED

Alex Natch, 1219 Revere avenue, Robertsdale, reported to police this morning that he had been robbed of $160 yesterday evening. The trunk in his room had been broken open and the money taken out. He did not notice the work of the thief until this morning. He says that another boarder named George Aranzek was seen to enter his room yesterday evening and thinks he got the money. The man is gone, but Natch furnished police with a good description of the suspect.
